About the Arizona Music & Dance Academy: An award winning music and dance school, voted "Best of Tucson" for two years in a row by Tucson Lifestyle magazine and the United States Local Business Association (USLBA), the Music & Dance Academy provides a unique learning environment for students of all ages and levels of experience, offering comprehensive music and dance education, in either private or group classes. University trained instructors work with students to create a personalized program based on the student's goals, fostering ability in each student and inspiring a learning community that embraces diversity. Students perform throughout the year in public recitals and Gala Concerts. The Academy offers the community student recitals featuring students of all ages, workshops featuring nationally and internationally renowned artists and Magic Rug Concerts, engaging and interactive musical concerts presented by our faculty artists for families and children.

Founded in 1995 by accomplished pianist and educator Nina Tishkevich, the Arizona Music & Dance Academy provides classical music and dance education using innovative teaching methods for students of all ages in strings, guitar, woodwinds, brass, percussion, piano, voice and dance. Committed to excellence in teaching, the Music & Dance Academy is a member of the National Guild of Community Schools of the Arts and the Arizona Suzuki Association.
